LAST MINUTE ROAD CONTRACTS UNDER STELLE

Governor Defends Course
With Figures Omitting
$13,700,000 Letting Set for Next Week.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 13—Gov. John Stelle said yesterday that records of the Division of Highways showed there had been "no outlandish spending" of state highway funds during his tenure as chief executive. Contracts during the last three months this year will total slightly less than $4,000,000, the Governor said in a prepared statement denying reports "about tremendous spending and the award of large contracts."

Expenditures for highway improvements under his brief administration, Stelle said, have been "much smaller than for the corresponding period in most previous years since 1927."

While Stelle's estimate for December contracts stood at $1,000,000, in Chicago Wednesday C. M. Hathaway, engineer in charge of construction for the State's 1941 road building program, gave much higher figures. In addressing the convention of the Illinois Road Builders' Association, the engineer estimated the approximate expenditure for 1940 at $19,800,000 with contracts to be let Dec. 20 on projects estimated at $13,700,000. Stelle goes out of office Jan. 13, to be succeeded by a Republican, Dwight H. Green.

Stelle's own figures, which he said were prepared by the State Division of Highways, indicated that in the final quarter-year of the Gov. Small administration road contracts totaled $7,182,230 while in the same period of the Gov. Emmerson administration they reached $8,709,793. This year the total for the three months will be under $4,000,000, Stelle declared.

"Much has been said about tremendous spending and the award of large contracts since I have been Governor," Stelle said. "I have had the Highway Division make a thorough check of its records to determine the truth of these reports."

"The figures show that this year the award of highway contracts has been much smaller than in many previous years. The high point of the last 14 years was reached in the final quarter-year of the Gov. Emmerson administration when the total of contracts awarded was $8,709,793. This year the figure will be considerably less than half that amount."

If the other estimate, given out by Hathaway in Chicago is correct, December contracts, still to be let, will put the total for the quarter above $16,000,000, twice that of Gov. Emmerson's total for the last three months of 1932.

Charge of "Demoralization."
Martin M. Phillipsborn of Chicago was out as supervisor of the utility tax section of the State Finance Department, but it was a disputed point whether he resigned or was removed by Finance Director A. M. Carter.

Phillipsborn made public a letter to Carter saying he was resigning in protest against "demoralization" of the State's revenue system. Phillipsborn said contractors and building supply dealers were being favored by a change in sales tax rules.

Carter said, however, that he previously had notified Phillipsborn of his dismissal, effective Dec. 10. Carter said the official was removed because he was "not co-operating and not loyal." Carter announced the appointment of Sam Keys of Lincoln to the $4800 a year position.

Department in New Hands.
Phillipsborn had held the supervisory position since 1933 and was the fourth State tax official to resign or be removed in recent weeks. Samuel Herman resigned as supervisor of sales tax rules and regulations soon after the rule was revised, asserting the exemption would result in the "unwarranted and unjustified" refund of $700,000. His assistant, Simon Stickgold, resigned the following day.

In his letter to Carter, Phillipsborn charged that "certain groups with influence are permitted to evade their share of responsibility as taxpayers" and added: "After deliberation, I have concluded that I am no longer able to stand by and watch this demoralization of our revenue system which for the last seven years has kept the State on a pay as you go basis."

Based on Stelle's Order.
Phillipsborn said his protest was based upon the recent revision of the sales tax rules to exempt the building industry from the tax. Gov. Stelle requested the revision, now being tested in the courts.

Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher of Chicago, hearing a test case involving legality of the tax on contractors and supply dealers, refused to recognize Stelle's revision of the rule and Attorney-General John E. Cassidy warned that failure to pay the tax would be prosecuted—notwithstanding the exemption ordered by the Governor.

LICENSE FOR REALTY MEN SOUGHT BY ASSOCIATION

Group to Ask Legislature to Have Control Board of Experienced
Control Brokers.
The Missouri Real Estate Association, an organization of real estate dealers, will ask the State Legislature, convening in January, to pass a measure requiring real estate brokers and salesmen to obtain licenses from the State, it was announced today by the association's St. Louis office. The association's legislative program was fixed Wednesday at a meeting of its directors at Jefferson City.

Purpose of the proposed law is to protect real estate purchasers, the announcement said. The association will ask that enforcement of the measure be entrusted to a commission composed of experienced real estate brokers.

The directors' meeting also recommended a State constitutional amendment exempting homesteads from taxation up to half their assessed valuation, if this does not exceed $3000, and placing a tax rate limit of $1.50 per $100 of assessed valuation on all property. The association will recommend that the Governor appoint a commission to study Missouri's tax system.

WALTER LIPPMANN TODAY AN

Mussolini's Dilemma
Italy's Economy
Win, Italy's Integrity Will Be

It may sound like a paradox to say that the salvation of Italy depends upon the defeat of many. But this is not the great war in which the allies conqueror are forced at last that his victory would mean own destruction. Napoleon was one time allied with all the powers of continental Europe: he and they turned against him defeated him.

The Italians are the chief sample in this war of a people have more to fear from their real partners than from avowed enemies. The defeat Italy by Great Britain and allies would leave Italy as an independent power in the Mediterranean, as an influence in Balkans and Central Europe, with some kind of colonial empire in Africa. The victory of Germany would put an end to Italian independence and would the loss to Germany of the territory which Italy won from Austria in the other war.

UNTIL Mussolini made the decision to enter this war, great majority of responsible Italians saw clearly that the Axis bound in any event to be fatal Italy. This was the view of monarchy, of the army, of the navy, of the seasoned diplomats many of the older Fascists, certainly of the great mass of ordinary people. They could presumably, have foreseen in late spring that things would badly for Italy in a military sense they have gone. The most of the soldiers of France the Hitler had won the war and Great Britain would be defeated a few weeks; it would not be surprising, therefore, if the Italy which entered the war so reluctantly, may have been persuaded while that Mussolini had made a shrewd choice, and that he going happily to the assistance of the already victorious Germany.

Once this estimate of the of the war turned out to be taken, the earlier and sounder of the Italians and of friends was vindicated. The Italy have been placed in a position where they are losing to both. They are, in fact, losing more to the Nazis than to the Allies, and now face the prospect of being cupied by the Germans as the suit of being knocked out by British or of being overrun and ministered by the Nazis to them from the British.

EVEN before their recent reverses in Albania and in naval war, the Italians were offering one disastrous defeat another. They sacrificed blood treasure in Spain, yet it is not solini but Hitler who dominates. They joined the war a France, but Hitler did not them to occupy the French in the Mediterranean or to contact through French territory with Spain or to take possession Tunis and Corsica. Indeed, solini's old friend Laval entered a conspiracy which, if it succeeded, would make a total France the successor of Italy. The junior partner of the Axis Italians have been summarily ed from Hungary and Rumania the region of central Europe always has been in their sphere of influence.

To lose Spain, to be betrayed France, to be frustrated in African claims, to be pushed central Europe, is a series of disasters which just about puts to all that Italian foreign policy aimed at since Mussolini came to power.

THESE disasters preceded military reverses of Egypt and Taranto, the stalling of the Italian campaign, the jeopardsy of the Dodecanese. It have been placed and the pious isolation of Ethiopia, makes the Italian position serious is not that there is as yet certainty that Great Britain must the force to deliver a blow; it is that the Italian placed in a fearful dilemma: they call in the Nazis to help will bring the Germans into and into the Mediterranean any victory that the Nazis make them, not the Italian masters of what Italians would regard as an Italian sea.

If, on the other hand, they call in the Nazis, they must suffer on the theory that Britain is defeated in the Atlantic they will extricate themselves the Mediterranean. But they what to expect from a Hitler victory in which they themselves been more of a liability the asset. They will be absolute powerless against anything chooses to ask of them, and know quite well that the Ty German territory. Trieste the Balkans and Turkey and Middle East is an essential part the ancient pan-German ambition.

THE dilemma of Italy is the Fascist Government and Italy's economy will be ruined Germany loses the war, with Italian independence, the integrity of Italy and its will be destroyed if Germany the war. There is no way this dilemma unless Italy is leaves the Axis before there is a decision—that is to say, before Britain. But as long as Italy an immense unemployed Italy cannot leave the Axis.

WALTER LIPPMANN TODAY AND TOMORROW

Mussolini's Dilemma: If Germany Loses, Italy's Economy Will Be Ruined; If Nazis Win, Italy's Independence and Territorial Integrity Will Be Destroyed.

It may sound like a paradox to say that the salvation of Italy depends upon the defeat of Germany. But this is not the first great war in which the allies of a conqueror are forced at last to see that his victory would mean their own destruction. Napoleon was at one time allied with all the kings of continental Europe; in the end they turned against him and defeated him.

The Italians are the chief example in this war of a people who have more to fear from their nominal partners than from their sworn enemies. The defeat of Italy by Great Britain and its allies would leave Italy intact, would preserve Italy as an independent power in the Mediterranean, as an influence in the Balkans and Central Europe, and with some kind of colonial empire in Africa. The victory of Germany certainly would put an end to Italian independence and would mean the loss to Germany of the territory which Italy won from Austria in the other war.

UNTIL Mussolini made the fatal decision to enter this war, the great majority of responsible Italians saw clearly that the Axis was bound in any event to be fatal to Italy. This was the view of the monarchy, of the army, of the Vatican, of the seasoned diplomats, of many of the older Fascists, and certainly of the great mass of the ordinary people. They could not, presumably, have foreseen in the late spring that things would go so badly for Italy in a military sense as they have gone. The most eminent soldiers of France thought Hitler had won the war and that Great Britain would be defeated in a few weeks; it would not be surprising, therefore, if the Italians, who entered the war so reluctantly, may have been persuaded for a while that Mussolini had made a shrewd choice, and that he was going happily to the assistance of the already victorious Germans.

Once this estimate of the state of the war turned out to be mistaken, the earlier and sounder judgment of the Italians and of their friends was vindicated. The Italians have been placed in a position where they are losing to both sides. They are, in fact, losing more to the Nazis than to the Allies, and they now face the prospect of being occupied by the Germans as the result of being knocked out by the British or of being overrun and administered by the Nazis to save them from the British.

EVEN before their recent reverses in Albania and in the naval war, the Italians were suffering one disastrous defeat after another. They sacrificed blood and treasure in Spain, yet it is not Mussolini but Hitler who dominates pain. They joined the war against France, but Hitler did not allow them to occupy the French ports in the Mediterranean or to make contact through French territory with Spain or to take possession of Tunis and Corsica. Indeed, Mussolini's old friend Laval entered into a conspiracy which, if it succeeded, would make a totalitarian France the successor of Italy as the junior partner of the Axis. The Italians have been summarily ousted from Hungary and Rumania, the region of central Europe which always has been in their sphere of influence.

To lose Spain, to be betrayed in France, to be frustrated in their African claims, to be pushed out of central Europe, is a series of disasters which just about puts an end to all that Italian foreign policy has aimed at since Mussolini came to power.

THESE disasters preceded the military reverses of Albania and Taranto, the stalling of the Egyptian campaign, the jeopardy in which the Dodecanese Islands have been placed and the precarious isolation of Ethiopia. What makes the Italian position so serious is not that there is as yet any certainty that Great Britain can muster the force to deliver a knockout blow; it is that the Italians are placed in a fearful dilemma. If they call in the Nazis to help, this will bring the Germans into Italy and into the Mediterranean, and any victory that the Nazis win will make them, not the Italians, the masters of what Italians would like to regard as an Italian sea.

If, on the other hand, they do not call in the Nazis, they must wait and suffer on the theory that if Britain is defeated in the Atlantic, they will extricate themselves in the Mediterranean. But they know what to expect from a Hitler victory in which they themselves have been more of a liability than an asset. They will be absolutely defenseless against anything Hitler chooses to ask of them, and they know quite well that the Tyrol is German territory. Trieste is a German city, and the dominion of the Balkans and Turkey and the Middle East is an essential part of the ancient pan-German ambition.

THE dilemma of Italy is that the Fascist Government and its internal economy will be ruined if Germany loses the war, whereas Italian independence, the territorial integrity of Italy and its empire, will be destroyed if Germany wins the war. There is no way out of this dilemma unless Italy is able to leave the Axis before there is a decision—that is to say, before Hitler wins or loses the war against Great Britain. But as long as Hitler has an immense unemployed army, Italy cannot leave the Axis. The power of resistance is demonstrated. There is no evidence that in any part of Europe from Russia to Spain, from Norway to Turkey, the Hitlerian empire rests upon anything but the naked power of the German military establishment. The Nazi propaganda and the Nazi diplomacy have been able to break down resistance to the German army, but what they cannot do is hold what the army has conquered. The Nazis are able to destroy. But they are not able to organize and construct, and the longer they operate in an occupied territory, the more surely they arouse resistance.

Thus the seeds of the disintegration of Hitler's conquest have been sown, and provided the resistance is firm and the return blows can be made formidable, the continent of Europe will overthrow him as it overthrew Napoleon. In that coalition the Italians are of course the French and the Spaniards, will find their only possible salvation.

YOUNG WOMAN HIT ON HEAD, ROBBED OF PURSE IN STREET

Tells Police Assailant, Who Got $3, Came Up Behind Her, Struck Her With Auto Crank. Miss Patzi Rhodes, 18 years old, was struck on the head yesterday afternoon with an automobile crank and robbed of her purse, containing $3, by a Negro as she was walking in the 3900 block of Lincoln avenue near her home.

Miss Rhodes, a clerk, was unable to give police a description of her assailant, saying he walked up behind her. She returned to her home, 3936 Lincoln, after being treated by a physician for lacerations of the scalp.

Another purse snatching was reported last night by Miss Florence O'Crowley of 3763 Westminster place, who told police a Negro grabbed her handbag, containing $14, in the 3000 block of Olive street.

NEW GOVERNORS FOR MARTINIQUE AND GUADELOUPE

Vichy Announces Changes
Also for Madagascar, Cochin China, Niger and Other French Colonies.

VICHY, France, Dec. 13 (AP).—New governors for Martinique and Guadeloupe, in the Caribbean, Madagascar, Cochinchina, Niger and other French colonies were named today in a sweeping decree issued by the Minister of Colonies. Numerous residents-superior were re-elected.

The decree named Armand Anet governor-general of Madagascar, replacing Leon Cayla; Henry Rivoli to replace Gov. Verber in Cochinchina, and Brig. Gen. Falvey in place of Leon Solomiac as governor of Niger.

Yves Nicol was promoted to the rank of governor of Martinique and Constant Sorin was given governor's rank in Guadeloupe.

Nicol replaces Acting Gov. Louis Bresolles, who is over the age limit.

Three other governors were re-elected on pensions.

In French Indo-China two new residents-superior were appointed, two others promoted and another retired.

A communique issued by the Colonial Ministry yesterday said Communists had provoked incidents in Cochinchina late in November, but asserted reports of these were greatly exaggerated.

There were encounters between groups of demonstrators and armed forces in seven provinces of French Indo-China and the suburbs of Saigon, its major southern port, the communique said.

An attack was made on certain public buildings and private plantations, and telephone and telegraphic lines were cut, the ministry added. Soldiers and sailors restored order, and calm now prevails, it said.

Reports reaching Manila said French Indo-China authorities were trying to quell serious native uprisings which might give Japan an excuse to move into the south to flank British Singapore and thus get closer to the Dutch East Indies. Censorship was mentioned. There are 23,000,000 natives in an area of about 286,000 square miles.

Carpenters' Head Renominated.

LAKELAND, Fla., Dec. 13 (AP).—Delegates to the convention of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America yesterday renominated William L. Hutcheson as president for another four-year term. He has served 20 years. Nomination is tantamount to election.

U. S. TO SURVEY DEFENSE METALS IN LATIN AMERICA

Ickes Announces Geologists
Are on Way — Aim Is to Make Hemisphere
Self-Sufficient.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP).—The newest effort to make countries of the Western Hemisphere independent of foreign sources of war materials was announced by Secretary of the Interior Ickes yesterday.

In a statement released at his press conference, he said six scientists of the United States Geological Survey were en route to Bolivia, Cuba and Brazil to explore areas which may furnish tin, tungsten, manganese, chromite and antimony, as well as some other metals essential in the Western Hemisphere defense program.

All of these are listed as either "necessary" or "critical" materials in the production of steel and lightweight alloys for aircraft construction, and most of them have in the past been imported from Far Eastern and European countries. These supplies either have been curtailed or cut off entirely in the present wars.

Ickes said the explorations being undertaken were planned, with the co-operation of the countries concerned, to develop the economic and military defense of the Western Hemisphere. Asked if it was an effort to make the Western Hemisphere countries independent of Europe and the Far East, he replied, "We hope so, but no one can tell what these geologists will find down there."

"This move, which will be supplemented by the detailing of two additional geologists for South American studies within a few weeks, is part of a general program of Pan-American economic co-operation. The program includes studies by four Department of Agriculture scientists of the possibilities of establishing new rubber plantations in Latin American countries."

The scientists investigating vital metal deposits are S. R. Cappe and W. D. Johnson Jr., who are going to Brazil; C. F. Parks Jr. and T. T. Thayer, who are en route to Cuba; and E. Callaghan and J. F. McAlester, who will investigate tin, tungsten and antimony deposits in Bolivia.

Most of the expense involved in these studies will be borne by the United States but the Latin American countries will furnish supplies, transportation and the co-operation of their own geologists.

MASSACHUSETTS COLLISION

Two Autos Crash Head on; Five of Victims Were Employed on Barracks Project.

ROXBURY, Mass., Dec. 13 (AP).—Five men were killed, and four others were gravely injured today in a head-on collision of two automobiles. Five of the men were employed at nearby Camp Edwards, where barracks are under construction.

There apparently were no witnesses to the accident which occurred two miles from town. A truck driver came upon the wreckage of the two cars and telephoned Camp Edwards.

DOROTHY THOMPSON WRITES
"ON THE RECORD"

Individual Efforts to Provide Relief in Continental Europe May Jeopardize Official U. S. Policy and Strengthen Position of Axis Powers.

THERE is one thing that must be kept clearly in mind regarding any relief assistance to the continent of Europe. It is this: The question of whether or not this country should assist in feeding the wretched nations under Hitler's heel is not merely a humanitarian question. It is a political question, and involves major policy at every point.

We cannot afford to regard it as merely a humanitarian matter. There is too much at stake. This country has appropriated billions for defense; it has conscripted millions of men. The appropriations and the conscription are occasioned by the recognition of a menace to all independent countries, all free men, and all democratic institutions by a combination of Powers in Europe and in the Far East, whose openly avowed aim is redistribution and reorganization of the world, including this hemisphere.

The European wing of the Axis is now being held away from America, and held down in the Atlantic highways, by the British. It is our policy to aid the British by every means short of war. Again, this is a policy to which almost unanimous consent has been given, through both major parties by a combination of forces. Our policy to see to it that nothing whatsoever is done, while we continue arming, that can in any way strengthen the position of the Axis Powers whom we clearly recognize on their own say-so and behavior as our possible enemies.

POLICY and diplomacy are weapons of defense no less than tanks and ships and guns. In facing totalitarian Powers, engaged in total war, we are greatly handicapped by the diffusion of our democratic forces. The totalitarian Powers have a completely integrated policy, and every individual and every economic, political, and social group is forced to collaborate with that policy. There is no such thing as a German business man conducting his own foreign policy, or a German social organization conducting its. The Nazi government has an aim and a program for the achievement of that aim, and everybody plays ball or goes to concentration camp.

IN the face of such concentration, I should decide, it seems to me, to do nothing in connection with the totalitarian governments or their captives, except for a clear political objective, and by, through, or with the consent of our own Government. If we permit individual citizens, committees and corporations to function heterogeneously and independently we shall be undermining the authority of the State Department and defeating our own national ends. We shall never be able to act with the highest degree of efficiency in dealing with the completely integrated totalitarian Powers. And it must be borne in mind that the coverage of their integration encompasses not only captive governments but unwitting stool pigeons of theirs, in our democracy.

At present we have a foreign policy for the United States and several other foreign policies conducted by various groups. The official and unofficial policies are by no means synchronized, and, indeed, it is possible for these private policies, pursued out of however much good will, greatly to embarrass the conduct of foreign relations, in the most critical moment of our history.

Mr. Hoover's activities, for instance, ought to be judged in the light of our whole policy and ought, it seems to me, to be conducted in harmony with it, or not conducted at all. For any large-scale relief activity involves relations with foreign governments, or their agents. I understand, for instance, that there is talk of attempting the consolidating of all the foreign national relief agencies—Finnish, Belgian, Polish, Dutch and Norwegian—into the Hoover organization and then absorbing with them the main foreign tasks of the Red Cross. If such a movement becomes organized, aside from official policy, possibly in opposition to official policy, and reflecting the discipline of official policy, it can help to paralyze and confuse our diplomacy and, indeed, render it difficult if not impossible to pursue a consistent and authoritative policy at all.

It seems to me that this matter of whether or to what extent we shall send supplies to Europe must be dealt with in the first line by the State Department, the Department of Agriculture and the Red Cross, all collaborating and working out a policy on which all are agreed.

This policy might be preceded by informing the public of the actual situation in Europe, about which very many contradictory things, most of them coming from interested sources, are said. Secondly, we can, it seems to me, undertake nothing except through negotiations, directly, with German army leaders about the release of grain to the most distressed areas. According to highly reliable information, the German Government has vast stores of grain, which it has exported from the immensely rich grain fields of Hungary and the Balkans and if this grain is to continue to be stored in Germany to assure a prolongation of the war and a greater chance of victory for the Nazis, while the business of feeding their victims is shoved onto us, we ought to know about it. The record must be clear, and the responsibility placed where it belongs.

Third, it might seem wise to co-operate with the British for the releasing of relief to Finland, if it is clear that German troops are not in Finland, as it has been reported, they are.

Fourth, it is reported that Mr. Hoover desires to move 350,000 tons of grain to Norway. Will the German authorities allow this grain to be purchased in the Balkans and moved from there?

It is of prime importance that the State Department and the American people know whether any relief activities are not, first, aiding the Germans by serving to break the British blockade, and, quite as important, aiding the Germans to maintain in their interests a blockade against the countries they occupy—a blockade of food resources from the rest of Europe.

The questions are complicated, involve our relations with Britain, involve our own eventual safety, and involve the highest matters of international politics. There is no such thing left in the world today, alas, and unfortunately, as a purely humanitarian venture in international affairs. There is not and there will not be, until the nations of the world again live and operate under certain internationally accepted codes.

The International Red Cross was knocked to bits by the Nazis, who withdrew from it in order to make their own Red Cross an instrument for furthering the aims of the Nazi Government.

NEITHER you, nor I, nor Mr. Hoover is going to hold responsible for the results of policies. The administration will be held responsible for those results: an administration elected by the American people and responsible to them, and nobody else in this country should be encouraged to make policies that conflict with those of the administration.

This does not mean that the administration's policies are not open to criticism, or that no citizen has the right to seek to change them. He does have that right. But it is profoundly unwise and dangerous to try to conduct privately a separate and possibly conflicting policy. For, although we need unity among ourselves, we particularly need it vis-a-vis the outside world. Not to have it is suicidal, in this moment of history.

DEMOCRATS CONSIDERING VOTE CONTEST, REPORT 'EVIDENCE'

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 13 (AP).—Democratic headquarters said today an "imposing array of evidence" has been uncovered by the investigation of the November election which may lead to a contest of Forrest C. Donnell's election as Governor.

A "news release" from headquarters indicated, however, that no decision had been made whether to contest the 3613 majority the Republican had over Lawrence E. McDaniel in the official returns. Reports circulated about the Capitol that the Democrats may not file a formal contest but may lay the results of their investigation before the Legislature and leave the initiative to that body. It alone can declare the election of a Governor.

TAFT URGES TO PCT. PERSONAL INCOME TAX

Says Sales Levy Should Not Be Tried Yet—Points to Rates in England.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP).—Senator Taft (Rep.), Ohio, suggested today that the first step in heavier taxes for defense should be to increase the normal levy on personal incomes from 4 per cent to 10 per cent.

Taft asserted that personal incomes were "the most promising source of revenue" and added that a Federal sales tax should not be imposed until increased taxes on individuals have been tried.

He said that "we would only be fooling ourselves" if an effort were made to increase taxes on corporations. "Taxes on business are based on the people," he continued, "but they tend to discourage business activity."

Pointing out that the people of Great Britain had managed to pay increasingly heavy income tax rates, Taft told reporters that a man making $5000 in this country, with average exemptions, now paid only $120 tax. He added that if the normal tax rate was increased from 4 to 10 per cent, such a man would pay $500.

"The people might as well recognize that they are going to have to pay at least 10 per cent on their incomes," Taft asserted. He said that present excise, or "nuisance," taxes should be retained for the time being, and that future Federal bond issues should be made subject to taxation, along with the obligations of state governments.

Only wealthy people now benefit from the exemptions on Government bonds, he contended.

Full Publicity on Corporations, Even to Directors' Abilities, Urged

Recommendations on Bureaucracy in Large Concerns by Economics Experts in Re- port to Monopoly Committee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP).—Dimock, a special assistant to the Attorney-General, and Howard K. Hyde, a research analyst with the Monopoly Committee. It is one of a series of more than 40 such reports being prepared.

The writers suggested that boards of directors be made effective by increasing the number of non-officer members and by emphasizing the necessity of preserving democratic control in corporations.

The report proposed steps to discourage the holding of numerous directorships by one man, reducing the size of some boards, and increasing the remuneration of directors. It also recommended publicizing the directors' qualifications, the number of directorships held by each, and their attendance at board meetings, using new legislation if necessary.

"Continual publicity should be given to production, sales, wages and hours, employment and the quality of goods," the report said, adding that all except the last could be obtained by requiring periodic reports from companies.

For the quality phase, it recommended expansion of the work of the Bureau of Standards and the Agriculture Department's consumer activities.

PROPOSED ZONING LAW ASSAILED AT PUBLIC HEARING

600 Hear Bill Decried as Communitistic, Bewilder- ing and a "Terrible In- sult to Churches."

The proposed zoning ordinance, which would comprehensively affect property throughout the city, was denounced as "communitistic, unconstitutional, confiscatory, bewildering" and a "terrible insult to churches," at its first public hearing yesterday at the Municipal Auditorium, where not a voice among the 600 persons attending was raised in favor of it.

Particularly incensed were the speakers representing the church groups, whose bitter criticism of a clause in the bill which does not provide for churches in the single-family dwelling districts, was frequently interrupted by fervent "amens." Another clause, which would compel places of public assembly, including churches, to provide parking space came in for a severe verbal whacking.

Arousing equal opposition among the critical speakers was the section on non-conforming uses, which provides that commercial or industrial structures in the single-family zones would have to be removed or converted to single dwellings by 1950, except that such buildings erected since 1920 may remain in their present use for 40 years after the date of issuance of construction permits, 1970 being the final limit.

Pastors Assail Bill.

The Rev. Joseph Franz read a motion before the meeting adopted by the Lutheran Pastoral Conference representing 50 churches, which said that the ordinance would halt the growth of the church, would destroy church property, made "an unnecessary evil," tended to "quench" the church, and was a "terrible insult" to 100 years of Lutheranism in the city. Pastors representing the Baptist, Presbyterian and other denominations also assailed sections of the bill affecting churches and church parking.

Pastors of Negro churches, many in districts where space for parking lots is not available, joined in the protest. The Rev. C. M. Long, Negro pastor of Central Baptist Church, Washington and Ewing avenues, charged that the provisions of the ordinance had the same effect as the Nazi policy against churches and their properties in that the bill was confiscatory and tended to eliminate churches.

His stirring appeal of "We ask you not to take away the last privilege we have—to pray; grant us the privilege to build our places of worship where we please," brought rounds of applause from all church members attending the meeting.

"Bewildering" to Realty Men.

Among the speakers who assailed the non-conforming use section was William A. Federer, member of the Tournament of Roses Queen

SALLY STANTON, 17-year-old blonde, who never has seen the annual Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, Cal., has been chosen to preside at the 1941 spectacle, to be held in connection with the Rose Bowl football game. She is a sophomore at Pasadena Junior College.

Zoning Committee of the St. Louis Real Estate Exchange. He said the ordinance as a whole, which the City Plan Commission spent three years in preparing, was "confused and bewildering" him.

He believed with other speakers, he declared, that such an ordinance of extensive changes would be practical if applied to new and unoccupied territory, but applied to sections of the city which had grown up to logical uses over many years, "it was nothing else than revolutionary."

He declared the parking provisions were discriminatory in that the bill provided places of public assembly must furnish space "sufficient to accommodate one motor car for each four seats in the main assembly hall," but that hotels and multiple dwellings had to provide space for only one car for each four guests.

Attacking a clause which says that if the non-conforming use of a premises "is voluntarily discontinued for a period of 180 days," its use thereafter shall conform to the type described for that district in the bill, Federer declared the building "would have to tear the building down or remodel it, and could not use it for the purpose for which it was bought."

He cited numerous instances of neighborhood stores where this would actually happen under this section, or the one providing for conformance by 1950.

A section of the bill that denies the right to alter a building unless the alteration is consistent with the use of the building for that district in which it is situated, drew sarcastic comment from Federer, other real estate dealers and several private property owners.

The speakers said such provision would throw property into disuse, would prevent investment and development, and when a building neighborhood changed in character, the buildings couldn't be altered to meet the natural changes.

Higher Taxes Predicted.

Several speakers predicted that the adoption of the ordinance would destroy property values because of mandatory changes in the bill, that financing couldn't be obtained for new buildings, that taxes would be increased instead of decreased, and that the bill would accelerate instead of retarding decentralization of population.

The hearing was before the Zoning Committee of the Board of Aldermen to which the bill was referred after preparation by the St. Louis Plan Commission. There will be eight hearings for different sections of the city. The hearing yesterday was for the Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth Wards, bounded roughly by the river, Arsenal street, Kingshighway boulevard, and city limits on the south.

The next meeting will be at 2 p. m. Thursday of next week for the Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Wards.

ILLINOIS AGENTS INVESTIGATE
PISTOL QUICK BOUGHT IN-1937

Revolver Found in Pawnshop Traced to Man Who Bought It From Transient After Murder.

Agents of the Illinois Department of Investigation assigned to the renewed inquiry into the killing of Leo W. Quick, East Side labor leader, on March 5, 1938, are investigating a .38-caliber revolver, one of three pistols which a pawnbroker said he sold to Quick Nov. 22, 1937.

The snub-nosed revolver used in the shooting was found in a roadside ditch a month later and is held by East St. Louis police. The second revolver, similar except that it has an ordinary barrel, was found in a pawnshop July 12, 1938, and also is held by police.

It was traced back through several previous purchasers, but the chain ended with a man who said he bought it from a transient shortly after the murder. A .38-caliber pistol said to have been purchased by Quick at the same time has never been found.

INVESTMENT MEN PLEDGE SUPPORT TO ARMS PROGRAM

Convention Adopts Resolu- tion Favoring "All Sound Measures" for Military Defenses.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Dec. 13 (AP).—The Investment Bankers Association of America today concluded its twenty-ninth annual convention, adopting a resolution pledging its "whole-hearted support to the President of the United States and to Congress for all sound measures for speedy increase" in military defenses.

Emmett F. Connelley, head of First of Michigan Corporation, Detroit, was re-elected president of the association, the first time in 24 years a president has succeeded himself. Connelley is also head of the Investment Bankers' Public Information Committee, and has been on leave of absence from his busi-

HOW DOWNTOWN OAKLAND, CAL., HAS BEEN MODERNIZED

Speaker Tells St. Louis Group Drab, Chaotic Unsightliness Can Be Overcome.

Intensive co-operative effort by which the downtown business district of Oakland, Cal., was modernized in appearance and made more attractive for retail business in the last eight years were described at a Real Estate Exchange luncheon at Hotel Statler yesterday.

The character of the audience of about 150 was significant, in view of the interest aroused in recent months in rehabilitation of downtown St. Louis, as a means of combating commercial decentralization. Among those present were most of the influential group backing the definite movement for improvement, including some of the principal merchants, bankers and representatives of large property interests, leading real estate dealers, office building operators, architects and members of the City Plan Commission.

Dudley W. Frost, manager of the Downtown Property Owners' Association, Inc., of Oakland, was the speaker. He told how the organization was formed when it was realized that the business center of Oakland, a city of 305,000 population, was deteriorating under the decentralization process. Recognizing that a principal interest of the audience lay in what Oakland had done to overcome the "unsightliness, drabness, chaotic appearance and jumble of bad architecture downtown," he exhibited a series of colored lantern slides.

Contrasts Here and There. The contrast between the old-fashioned structures and the new fronts in a variety of modernistic styles, colors and materials was striking. Frost pointed out that the effort was confined to making over the exteriors, leaving interior changes to follow as a matter of course with the improvement of business and the demands of tenants.

Most of the buildings shown in the pictures were two and three stories high, but several were taller. Unlike what has happened in downtown St. Louis, the Oakland work displayed all consisted of complete new fronts. Here modernization has been limited, in general to store fronts one story or two stories high, leaving more or less antiquated construction visible above.

The Oakland work has covered 34 buildings so far, at costs ranging from $5000 to $150,000. Frost did not have an estimate of the total. He did not go into details on how property owners, mortgage holders, financial agencies and others involved were induced to proceed with improvements, but this was part of the persuasive function of his association. Public officials joined willingly because the effect was to help maintain taxable values.

Downtown Oakland was suffering from gangrene when the movement started, he related, but now it is crowded and busy. "To the decentralization fifth columnists in the real estate business I say, 'Stop advising clients downtown business is through,'" he remarked. Vacant stores have been reduced to a slim percentage, and mostly are on the fringe of the district, he added.

Co-operative Parking Plan. A co-operative parking association, in which professional men, banks and newspapers joined as well as merchants, has provided free parking for customers on six lots, with no purchase required for validation of a check. The cost is prorated and has always been less than 5 cents a car. In 1939 the lots parked 1,084,726 cars, one lot with a capacity of 198 cars and only three attendants caring for 2000 in the course of a day. Private parking lot operators have been forced to give low rates, in contrast with high charges in San Francisco. Oakland police are enforcing the 40-minute curb parking law as one phase of the official co-operation.

Other fields in which the property owners' association has been active, Frost continued, have included: Obtaining lower tax valuations, although business is better than in 1929; steps to curb "ribbon" development of commerce along traffic arteries, including restrictive zoning along the chief approach to the busy bay bridge; changes in zoning and building restrictions which hampered improvement of an adjoining old-fashioned residence district; decreasing street hazards; improving mass transportation access to the business center.

Frost advised any organization seeking to follow Oakland's example to arrange for an ample treasury. His started, in the midst of the depression, with about $100,000. Membership has continued active. It is sought to maintain a cash reserve of about $50,000 for emergency activities. There is an affiliated Downtown Merchants' Association, all members of which, large or small, pay $1 a year each.

PLANE WITH GLASS-COVERED WINGS PUT THROUGH TESTS
Use of Fireproof Fabric Expected to Open New Field of Construction in Light Craft.
ALLIANCE, O., Dec. 13 (AP).—An airplane with "glass" wings, so fire-resistant that a torch produces only a smudge on its fabric, was tested yesterday to open a new field of construction in the light horsepower categories.

Yet to be approved by the Government, the material employed can be used, the manufacturer said, both on primary and basic military training planes as well as on the light machines in civilian pilot training.

NEW INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION PEAK DURING NOVEMBER

Index Reaches 131 Pct. of 1935-39 Average; Rise Widespread, Reserve Board Says.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP).—The Federal Reserve Board estimated today that industry, spurred by defense orders, reached a new peak in November.

The board's seasonally adjusted index of industrial production placed November output at 131 per cent of the 1935-39 average. The index had been 128 the preceding month and 124 a year ago.

"Recent increases in activity have been widespread," the agency's monthly bulletin asserted. "Expanded output has occurred not only in industries directly engaged in production of war materials and in those making goods formerly supplied by European producers; war and defense developments have also increased civilian expenditures."

"In the aggregate these increases have much more than offset losses resulting from the closing of many foreign markets for American goods. Retail sales of automobiles have been exceptionally large this autumn, more new houses have been bought, and consumers' purchases of other products have increased substantially, although not so much as buying in the wholesale markets. A sharp rise in factory construction this autumn has been to meet civilian requirements, as well as military demands."

The board also estimated that total employment in the United States had increased by more than 2,000,000 persons between August, 1939, and October, 1940. This was said to be a net gain. Huge increases in industrial employment overbalanced some declines in the agricultural field.

The board noted slight price rises in some fields, but added that "wage rates in general have shown little change."

Profits of corporations were said to have declined somewhat in the last part of this year, because higher costs and taxes more than offset increased sales.

NEPHEW DENIES ULRICH SHARED IN DRUG STORE

Denies at East Side Relief Fraud Trial He Failed to Deliver Medicine for Needy.

Presentation of the defense in the trial of six persons charged with conspiracy to defraud in administration of relief funds in Centerville township was resumed in Circuit Court at Belleville today with general and specific denial of the State's charges by two more of the defendants. Four have testified so far.

Witnesses were August Ulrich, East St. Louis druggist and nephew of Albert Ulrich, former relief administrator of the township, and Miss Dorothy Bruce, case worker.

August Ulrich denied that he had ever failed to deliver any drugs which had been ordered by the relief administration to relief clients, as had been testified by State's witnesses. He said his uncle had no interest in his drug store. A State's witness had testified that Albert Ulrich said he had a $6000 interest in the store.

Miss Bruce denied she had certified a Negro for relief when he was working as a coal hauler as had been testified by a State's witness. She said she rejected his application because she knew he was employed. The Negro, Herman Harris, is a defendant.

Testimony of Miss Bruce followed that of Albert Ulrich and his sister, Mrs. Louise Ulrich Reiff, who was in charge of the issuance of medical relief orders. Miss Bruce testified, as had Ulrich and Mrs. Reiff, that the principal State's witness, Mrs. Tillie Toth, former office manager, was in complete charge of the office.

Under cross-examination by Assistant Attorney-General T. J. Sullivan of Illinois, Mrs. Reiff acknowledged that she had affixed her seal as notary public to a $50 dental relief claim on June 12, 1937, although the claimant was not present and the claim was not filled out until June 14, 1937.

Mrs. Reiff said she subscribed the name of the claimant, Dr. Irene Waters, a dentist, to the claim because the dentist had written her name in the body of the claim.

Dr. Waters had testified as a State's witness that she had given the dental treatment to Miss Josephine Ulrich, sister of Albert Ulrich, and subsequently had received a request to sign a disbursing order stating the services were to Henry Nunn, Negro relief client. Her testimony was that she had cashed a $50 check from the relief office, but on receiving the disbursing order, returned it unsigned together with her personal check for $50 and a statement that apparently there had been a mistake. Miss Ulrich is not a defendant in the conspiracy case.

LISBON, Portugal, Dec. 13 (AP).—The 988-ton French liner Compagnie sailed yesterday, ostensibly bound for Casa Blanca, and dock workers started a pool as to whether it would actually reach there, go to Gibraltar or become a target for Axis sea raiders.

Shipping circles emphasized that it was the British control that facilitated the supplying of the Compagnie with enough fuel for a long voyage.

CAMP DELAYS BUT LATER SUGGESTS CALL OFF 56 DAYS

Final Group to Be Mobilized April 1—Lieut. Col. Somervell Put in Charge of Construction.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Complete mobilization of the 96,000 National Guardsmen called up for a year's active service with the regular army must be postponed almost two months because of unforeseen delays in construction of camp facilities.

Delays for individual units will range from one week to two months, with the date for mobilizing the final group set up from Feb. 3 to April 1.

The War Department announced today that Lieut. Col. Breton B. Somervell, who has the reputation of being a hard-driving administrator, has been placed in command of its lagging $147,000,000 construction program.

The department said in a statement that Brig. Gen. Charles D. Hartman, who has been in charge of construction, is being replaced by Lieut. Col. Somervell Wednesday "for observation and training following a long period of overwork."

Comment by Army Chief.

Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, said that delays in certain construction projects "had no bearing on the assignment of Col. Somervell." These delays he added, have been due to causes beyond the control of the construction division.

Col. Somervell, a native of Little Rock, Ark., recently has been WPA administrator in New York City. He is a former president of the Mississippi River Commission.

Secretary of War Stimson attributed the delay in completing the camps to adverse weather conditions, water shortage and similar causes. He quoted Isidor Lubin, labor statistics commissioner attached to the Defense Commission, as saying that labor difficulties were responsible for only 1 percent of the delays.

Calling some of the delays "inevitable," Stimson expressed his belief that the War Department had given a "very creditable performance" in the rapid expansion of the armed forces.

Effect on Draft Program.

He said he could not determine immediately whether the delays in mobilizing the guardsmen would hold up induction of some 160,000 selectees who were to have been called next month. Guardsmen will be used to help in training men taken into the army under the Selective Service Act.

The revised date for mobilizing the Thirty-third Division, Illinois, in Feb. 24.

The longest single camp project delay was in the Seventh Corps Area training center which was ordered transferred from a site in Iowa to Rolla, Mo., when a prospective water shortage was discovered after work had substantially progressed.

The Thirty-third National Guard Division, which has units in St. Louis, has received orders to mobilize Dec. 23.

DEPARTMENT STORE SALES UP

Gain Since Corresponding Week of 1939 Put at 29 Pct.

Department store sales in St. Louis last week were 2.9 per cent greater than in the like week last year, the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank reported today.

Sales this year, through last Saturday, were 5.6 per cent above the total for the corresponding period last year.
